

International Climate Change Research Forum

Come participate in a discussion to help better define MSU's strengths in the international climate change area and determine how to position ourselves to take advantage of these strengths.

To promote an inclusive participatory dialogue, numerous other MSU faculty who work in the climate change area have been invited to participate in these discussions.

Speakers

Jennifer Olson

Department of Telecommunication,
Information Studies & Media

Jiaguo Qi

Department of Geography and Center for Global Change and Earth
Observations

Jinhua Zhao

Department of Economics and Department of Agricultural, Food and Resource Economics

David Skole

Department of Forestry and Global Observatory for Ecosystem Services

February 12

12:00pm-2:00pm

303 International Center

The speakers will:

- Give a brief summary of their current research interests and projects
- Identify and discuss existing and emerging key research issues
- Discuss international or U.S. collaborative research relationships
- Outline the kinds of expertise/resources MSU already has or would need to position itself strongly in this arena

Sponsored by the Center for Advanced Study of International Development, the Center for Gender in Global Context, the African Studies Center, the Asian Studies Center, the Center for European, Russian and Eurasian Studies, the Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies, and the Canadian Studies Center